

Lithium buy boosts Tawana

Shares in Tawana Resources were up 84 per cent today as the company moved focus from iron ore to lithium, while three more Western Australian companies announced new moves in the lithium sector as keen market interest in the metal continues.

Tawana gained exposure for a series of potential lithium tenements in the Goldfields through the acquisition of private company Mount Belches.

Those tenements are largely in two zones, near Coolgardie and Kambalda.